2024 Disaster Loss: How to Claim a State Tax Deduction

Taxpayers affected by California disasters declared by the President and/or the Governor should write the name of the disaster in black or blue ink at the top of their tax return the year they claim the loss and file the return with the Franchise Tax Board (FTB). If taxpayers are e-filing, they should follow the software instructions to enter disaster information.

What's New

Postponement of Certain Tax-Related

Deadlines – Beginning on or after June 27, 2024, the Director of Finance (DOF) shall determine when Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 7508A, related to postponement of certain federal tax-related deadlines, applies for California purposes to a taxpayer affected by a state of emergency declared by the Governor or a federally declared disaster. Impacted taxpayers can request an additional relief period if the state postponement period expires before the federal postponement period by filing form FTB 3872, California Disaster Relief Request for Postponement of Tax Deadlines. For more information, get form FTB 3872 and see Revenue and Taxation Code (R&TC) Section 18572.

General Information

List of Disasters

For a list of the most current California disasters declared by the President and/or the Governor, go to ftb.ca.gov and search for disaster loss for individuals and businesses.

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2014, and before January 1, 2029, taxpayers may deduct a disaster loss for any loss sustained in any city, county, or city and county in California that is proclaimed by the Governor to be in a state of emergency. For these Governor-only declared disasters, subsequent state legislation is not required to activate the disaster loss provisions. Any law that suspends, defers, reduces, or otherwise diminishes the deduction of a net operating loss (NOL) shall not apply to a net operating loss attributable to these specified disaster losses. The President's declaration continues to activate the disaster loss provisions. For a complete list of all disasters declared by the President and/or the Governor, see the "Recent Disaster Loss Relief" chart on page 7 through page 11.

This publication is designed to help you with financial recovery and explains how you can claim your financial loss as a deduction on your California tax return.

For additional information specific to your disaster, see page 7 through page 11 of this publication or form FTB 3805V, Net Operating Loss (NOL) Computation and NOL and Disaster Loss Limitations— Individuals, Estates, and Trust and form FTB 3805Q, Net Operating Loss (NOL) Computation and NOL and Disaster Loss Limitations – Corporations.

Casualty and Disaster Losses

California law generally follows federal law regarding the treatment of losses incurred as a result of a casualty or a disaster. Generally, to qualify as a disaster loss for federal purposes, the President of the United States must declare the area in which the disaster occurred as a disaster area, eligible for federal assistance under the federal Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act. This includes a major disaster or emergency declaration under the Act. A pronouncement by the Governor of California declaring an area as a disaster or emergency area is not enough to qualify as a disaster loss for federal purposes.

A casualty loss occurs when your property is lost or damaged due to an earthquake, fire, flood, or similar event that is sudden, unexpected, or unusual. You usually qualify for a casualty loss deduction for tax purposes when insurance or other reimbursements do not repay you for damage to your property.

For California purposes, your casualty loss becomes a disaster loss when both of the following occur:

- You sustain the loss in an area the President of the United States or the Governor of California declares a state of emergency.
- You sustain the loss because of the declared disaster.

Special tax rules apply to disaster losses. You can claim a disaster loss in the taxable year the disaster occurred or in the taxable year immediately before the disaster occurred. The advantage of claiming a disaster loss in the prior year is that the loss will generally reduce the prior year tax liability generating a refund that the FTB can quickly issue.

Claiming a Disaster Loss on an Amended Tax Return

You can claim a disaster loss either on an amended tax return filed for the preceding year or on the tax return filed for the year of the loss. If you have already filed your tax return for the preceding year, you can claim a disaster loss against that year's income by filing an amended tax return.

Schedule X, California Explanation of Amended Return Changes

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2017, the Schedule X has replaced the Form 540X, Amended Individual Income Tax Return. For additional information, see Instructions for Filing Amended Returns in the personal income tax booklets.

The due date for filing an amended individual tax return is April 15 following the year of the loss, unless extended. For example, you sustained a disaster loss in August 2024. You can claim the loss on your 2024 tax return when you file it by April 15, 2025, or claim the loss immediately on your 2023 tax return. If you already filed your 2023 tax return, complete a Schedule X. You must make the election to claim the loss on your 2023 tax return by April 15, 2025, the original due date for the 2024 tax return or by the extended due date. For more information, see page 5, When to Claim Your Disaster Loss.

Disaster Loss Carryover Rules

For disasters that occurred in taxable years 2004 through 2011, you are allowed to carryover 100% of the excess loss for up to 15 years. Exception: Certain disasters that were Presidentially declared with no subsequent California legislation can be carried over for 20 years.

See the “Recent Disaster Loss Relief” table on page 7 through page 11 for a list of the disasters that qualify for the 20 years disaster loss carryover.

If you have both disaster loss carryovers and net operating loss carryovers, you must use them in the order you incurred them. There is no requirement to deduct NOL carryovers, before disaster loss carryovers.

Taxpayers should complete form FTB 3805V or form FTB 3805Q for the year of loss to compute the carryover.

Net Operating Loss General Rule

Any NOL attributable to the disaster loss can be carried forward up to 20 years. For more information, get form FTB 3805V or form FTB 3805Q.

How to Calculate a Disaster Loss

Compute your tax loss on your federal tax return and transfer that loss amount to your California tax return. In some cases, you may need to make adjustments between state and federal tax laws on your California tax return. For more information, get FTB Pub. 1001, Supplemental Guidelines to California Adjustments.

Individuals

Calculate your disaster loss by reporting California amounts on federal Form 4684, Casualties and Thefts, Section A – Personal Use Property, and submitting this form with your California tax return. If you are claiming a disaster loss on a prior year return, then see the note below for additional instructions.

Determine your personal loss by using the smaller of the decrease in the fair market value of your property due to the casualty or the adjusted basis of the property. Fair market value means the amount at which property would change hands between a willing buyer and seller. Adjusted basis generally means what you paid for the property plus the cost of any improvements, less deductions such as depreciation. To determine your allowable loss, deduct insurance proceeds or other reimbursement you received or expect to receive. Next, subtract $100 and then 10% of your federal adjusted gross income. Claim the remaining amount as your casualty or disaster loss.

Businesses

Calculate your disaster loss by reporting California amounts on federal Form 4684, Casualties and Thefts, Section B – Business and Income-Producing Property. If the business is claiming a disaster loss on a prior year return, then see the note below for additional instructions.

Determine your business loss by using the smaller of the decrease in the fair market value of your property due to the casualty or the adjusted basis of the property. To determine the allowable loss, deduct insurance or other reimbursement you received or expect to receive.

Note:

If you or a business are making an election under IRC Section 165(i) to claim a loss on the preceding year, then complete the federal Form 4684, Section D – Election To Deduct Federally Declared Disaster Loss in Preceding Tax Year, in addition to Section A or Section B.

Federal Postponement Periods

Beginning on or after June 27, 2024, the DOF shall determine when IRC Section 7508A, related to postponement of certain federal tax-related deadlines, applies for California purposes to a taxpayer affected by a state of emergency declared by the Governor or a federally declared disaster. Impacted taxpayers can request an additional relief period if the state postponement period expires before the federal postponement period by filing form FTB 3872. For more information, get form FTB 3872 and see R&TC Section 18572.

Tax deadlines subject to postponement include those for filing tax returns, paying income taxes, and making contributions to a traditional Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) or Roth IRA. The FTB may cancel the interest and penalties on underpaid income tax for the length of any postponement deadlines. For more information, go to ftb.ca.gov and search for disasters.

If the DOF postpones a tax deadline, the following taxpayers are eligible for the postponement:

- Any individual whose main home is located in a covered disaster area.
- Any business whose principal place of business is located in a covered disaster area.
- Any relief worker affiliated with a recognized government or philanthropic organization and who is assisting in a covered disaster area.
- Any individual or business whose records are needed to meet a postponed deadline, provided those records are maintained in a covered disaster area. Note: The main home or principal place of business does not have to be located in the disaster area.
- Any estate or trust that has tax records needed to meet a postponed tax deadline, provided those records are maintained in a covered disaster area.
- The spouse on a joint tax return with a taxpayer who is eligible for postponements.
- Any other person determined by the DOF to be affected by a state of emergency declared by the Governor or Presidentially declared disaster.

Disasters Outside of California

If you meet the qualifications to claim a disaster loss anywhere within the United States and have a California tax-filing requirement (resident or nonresident), the DOF will evaluate any filing and or payment postponement in response to each declaration or emergency for disasters outside of California on a case-by-case basis, consistent with existing authority per R&TC section 18572.

Impacted taxpayers can request an additional relief period if the state postponement period expires before the federal postponement period by filing form FTB 3872. For more information, get form FTB 3872 and see R&TC Section 18572.

Be sure you indicate on your tax return the name and date (in black or blue ink at the top of your tax return) of which disaster you are claiming a loss. If taxpayers are e-filing, they should follow the software instructions to enter disaster information. For more information, go to ftb.ca.gov and search for disasters.

Documentation You Must Attach to Your California Tax Return

To report your losses, you may need the following California forms:

- Schedule D-1, Sales of Business Property.
- Form FTB 3805V, Net Operating Loss (NOL) Computation and NOL and Disaster Loss Limitations – Individuals, Estates, and Trusts.
- Form FTB 3805Q, Net Operating Loss (NOL) Computation and NOL and Disaster Loss Limitations – Corporations.

You must also include these federal forms in your disaster loss documentation:

- A federal Form 4684, Casualties and Thefts (use California amounts).
- A copy of your federal Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, or 1040-SR, U.S. Tax Return for Seniors, or 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return.
- A copy of your federal Form 1120, U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return, or 1120X, Amended U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return.
- Any supporting federal schedules that verify your deduction.

If you are claiming a disaster loss on the current year return, you must attach a clearly written statement to your loss documentation that indicates:

- The date of the disaster.
- The location of the disaster (city, county, and state).

If you are claiming a disaster loss on the prior year return, see the note under How to Calculate a Disaster Loss on page 4.

It is a good idea to take and keep photos of the damaged property to document the loss.

For filing deadline dates specific to your disaster, refer to the table on this page under When to Claim Your Disaster Loss.

When to Claim Your Disaster Loss

¹For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2014 and before January 1, 2029, the state throwback election may be made on or before the later of:

- The due date of the tax return, including extensions for the taxable year in which the disaster actually occurred.
- The due date of the tax return, including extensions, for the taxable year immediately preceding the tax year of occurrence.

Note – For taxable years on or before January 1, 2014, if California legislature passed legislation that extends the election date by listing the disaster in R&TC, the state throwback election could be made.
